CLANDESTINE SERVICES REVIEW NO. 25

15 - 26 June 1959

OBJECTIVES:

1. To acquaint Clandestine Services officers, returning from field assignments, with the current role of CIA in the United States intelligence community.
2. To describe current governmental policy-making, implementing, and coordinating mechanisms in the action and collection fields.
3. To familiarize the returnee with the present organization and functions of the Clandestine Services with emphasis on mission, doctrine, procedures, concepts, trends and programs.
4. To present the responsibilities and functions of the Office of the Deputy Director (Intelligence) particularly describing its relations to the Clandestine Services.
5. To present the responsibilities and functions of the Office of the Deputy Director (Support) with emphasis on its support of the Clandestine Services.
6. To give the returnee the opportunity to direct questions pertaining to CIA policies and trends to senior officials of the Agency.

Reading Material: Specific regulations, instructions and related papers pertinent to the subject matter of the lectures are listed on the program. These materials are collected in notebooks for each member of the Review. The notebooks have a complete index. Top Secret documents will be distributed against a receipt for the duration of the course.
